Good morning Gold Coast Estates:

It looks like we have another great week of weather.

We've heard talk from several people that snowbirds will be heading north at various times over the next month or so. Please remember our partnership with the Cape Coral Caring Center. If you have any food that you can't bring with you and won't make it until you return, please consider donating to the Caring Center. Just let me know if you have anything. You can drop at our house and we will ensure it gets to the center.

As things here in Florida begin to open back up today, let's hope we can get back to some sense of normalcy soon.

Stay safe,

Kurt Godwin
President
